CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE I. This organization shall be called the American Society of Microscopists. Its object shall be the encouragement of microscopical research.

ARTICLE II. Any person interested in microscopical science may become a member of the Society upon recommendation in writing by two members, nomination by the Executive Board, and election by a majority of the members of the Society present at any regular session of the Society. Honorary members may also be elected by the Society on nomination by the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE III. The officers of this Society shall consist of a President and two Vice-Presidents, who shall hold their office for one year, or until their successors are elected and qualified, and shall be ineligible for re-election for two years after the expiration of their term of office; together with a Secretary and Treasurer, who shall be elected for three years, and be eligible for re-election.

ARTICLE IV. The duties of the officers shall be the same as in other similar organizations; in addition to which it shall be the duty of the President to deliver an address during the meeting at which he presides, of the Vice-Presidents to audit the Treasurer's account, and of the Treasurer to act as custodian of the property of the Society.

ARTICLE V. There shall be an Executive Committee consisting of the officers of the Society, the past Presidents, and three members elected by the Society.

ARTICLE VI. It shall be the duty of the Executive Committee to fix the time and place of meeting of the Society, arrange the business, manage the general affairs of the Society, and superintend the publication of the proceedings.

ARTICLE VII. The election of officers shall be held on the morning of the last day of each meeting. Their term of office shall commence at the close of the meeting at which they are elected.

ARTICLE VIII. Candidates for office shall be nominated by a committee consisting of seven members of the Society. This committee shall be elected by a plurality vote by ballot after free nominations.

ARTICLE IX. The initiation fee shall be three dollars, and the dues shall be two dollars, paid in advance annually. No applicant shall be considered a member until he has paid his dues. And any member failing to pay his dues for two consecutive years, and after due written notification from the Treasurer, shall forfeit his membership.

ARTICLE X. Amendments to the Constitution may be made by a two-thirds vote of all members present at any annual meeting, after having been proposed at the preceding annual meeting.

TREASURER'S REPORT.

COLUMBUS, OHIO, August 11, 1881.

The following report represents the financial condition of the Society at the present time with the exception of one or two small bills, to be included in the cost of the Detroit proceedings, and which have not yet been rendered to the Treasurer.

Statements, giving the amount of dues owing the Society, have been forwarded to members in arrears, with the result of defining the exact bona fide membership of the society. It appears from the returns received, that a very great majority of the microscopists who attended the Indianapolis Congress have become regular contributing members of the Society.
